

Alex Roy

Alexander Roy serves as the Kaua'i National Wildlife Refuge Complex Transportation Scholar for the 2016-2017 Public Lands Transportation Scholar Program. For the past two years Alex worked as a transportation consultant in Salt Lake City, working on some of the most visible projects in Utah. He graduated from the University of Utah with a Masters of City and Metropolitan Planning. Prior to graduation, Alex worked as a Ski Technician at Alta Ski Resort which helped him understand the important balance between providing access and preserving the natural landscape in a popular tourist destination. As the Kaua'i National Wildlife Refuge Complex Transportation Scholar, he is inspired to develop transportation recommendations that strike a balance between innovative and implementable, and that allow visitors to experience the beauty of Kaua'i.